designed for interpreters practicing in any setting to seek and provide support for the everyday challenges faced on the job. Novice and experienced interpreters along with students are invited to attend. This will be a safe, confidential space to discuss ethical conflicts. Participants are encouraged to bring personal examples of a current or previous ethical dilemma to examine with fellow colleagues. Solutions to conflict will be explored by considering various resources, stakeholder perspectives, as well as other relevant information related to decision making in the field of interpreting. Interpreters will benefit by developing a broader understanding of the complex issues that influence the ethical decision making process. Workshops will be conducted in either ASL or English, depending on the communication preferences of attendees.

For accommodation requests, please contact the EDG coordinator at edg@mirid.org within 14 days of the event. MIRID promotes an environment free of bias to enhance learning, open discussion and respect. Any acts of discrimination will not be tolerated.

REGISTRATION CANCELLATION NOTE: if you have registered for an event and no longer plan to attend, please contact edg@mirid.org in order to create space for those on our waiting list.
